

WINDSTONE

Inspired by the location, the setting... and a tree.

Ideally located, where Renton meets Newcastle and Issaquah, with convenient access to I405 and SR900 as well as the Eastside and Seattle and offering sought after Issaquah schools, "location, location, location" certainly applies to Windstone.

KBS Development, a Puget Sound based company, working hand-in-hand with the City of Renton and King County, has enhanced this outstanding location and setting through thoughtful planning and development. Sensitive areas and wetlands have been protected and preserved and now create buffers and open space that, along with the spectacular, terraced hillside setting with views of Squak Mountain and the Cascade foothills, gives Windstone a true Northwest feel, a sense of place.

An elegant Bluestone monument, along with cedar estate fencing and lush entry landscaping creates a sense of entry sure to be appreciated by homeowners and visitors alike. The impressive entry sets the stage for Windstone's community park, located just up the hill.

The centerpiece for the park is a large Japanese maple, the size and beauty of which, earn it the label "Heritage" tree by landscape experts. This beautiful tree was lovingly and painstakingly relocated from its initial location on the property, along with nearly a dozen mature fir trees, underscoring the care taken by KBS Development as they created Windstone. It's this Japanese maple that provided the inspiration for Windstone's community logo.

With only 70 homesites, Windstone is just the right size. Not too large and not too small. 5 of the area's most respected and sought after new home builders offer luxury homes built with the discriminating buyer in mind.

Location. Setting. Luxury Homes.
